Who can stay in the accommodation?

Priority is given to Imperial College Healthcare NHS Trust employees and students, followed by other NHS employees, university or research bodies associated with the Trust. Then other key workers, such as workers of teaching or educational services, Police Service, Fire Service, and public transport services.
Who we are

The A2Dominion Group is one of the country’s leading providers of high-quality housing.

The A2Dominion Group provides over 30,000 homes across London and southern England. It offers a wide range of housing options, including homes for rent, sale and shared ownership, as well as temporary, student, sheltered, supported and key worker accommodation.

What we offer

Our key worker accommodation is the ideal solution for those looking for short or medium-term housing. These are the people who work within the public sector in roles that are vital to the infrastructure of the community, such as teachers, Police Officers and NHS workers.

It allows people to rent a property on an assured short-hold tenancy basis at below market rent. We offer these homes in locations across London and southern England.

Some of our key worker homes are located onsite at a number of NHS Trust hospital sites, allowing residents to live near to their place of work.

We also manage homes for students at colleges and universities, and offer market rented accommodation. For further information about these housing options and our other key worker homes, please contact the accommodation office (details below).

Our homes range from single rooms with en-suite or shared facilities, to two and three bedroom flats and houses for couples and families. Our accommodation adheres to the rigorous standards as set out by the Government in the housing of health workers and other key workers, so you can always expect a good quality, comfortable, clean home, which is both convenient and affordable.
